not a very good book at all.

By Fred Thalier

Many technical and numerical errors in this book. Mislabeled diagrams and explanations. Too many to find on one's own free time. If you bought this book be prepared to comb over inconsistencies, because you'll be the editor of this book. Of course if you are reading this review and the one above, do not get it, refund was pocket change, really. Not worth keeping for reference. Get the Rodak's book.

Awful textbook

By C. Goings

Hematology in Practice is an extremely confusing and annoying book. Many of the diagnostic numbers throughout the book don't match the numbers at the front of the book. In addition, it seems the author has either traded clarity for obscurity or has refused to use an editor. If you're unversed in clinical hematology, then be prepared to do some extra research to find out what the author is talking about.

Disappointing

By Allison Y. Risseeuw

Within the first few chapters, it was evident that editing was absent. Inconsistencies in information from front cover to tables within the chapters, and information given in the testing section (Chapt 20) became a huge source of frustration. In what lab do they routinely draw a sodium citrate tube LAST as was recommended on page 243? Formula for MCH is NOT Hgb/RBC x 100, nor is MCHC Hgb/Hct x 10 as shown on pg 25.

This book should not be used as a college textbook.
